Tax Changes Bring Protest

All Badge, No Pay

City Marshal Job Open

BY TROY MARTIN

Voters in the budding village of Tanglewood will go to the polls Tuesday and decide on a mayor, five aldermen, a city marshal and whether they even want Tanglewood to become a town or not.

Polling place is Tanglewood Club House.

So far there are two possible candidates for mayor, eight for aldermen and the city marshal job is still going begging.

Candidates for alderman are Rev. Newton Robinson, Kenneth Hanna, Sam Mar-maduke, Jim Park, Murray Grey, Sam Hunter, Tom Bad-row and Bob Gray.

J.I. "Jim" Fletcher and James "Doc" Potts got the ball rolling on calling of the election at a town meeting attended by some 218 residents of Tanglewood.

Fletcher said there were only two dissenting voices at the meeting.

The group feels that it can have some voice in zoning through a city or village government. The village will not have taxing power and its sole revenue seems to be the possibility of collecting a franchise payment from utility companies serving the village.

Fletcher said there may be more than eight candidates for alderman before polls open at the club house at 7 a.m. Tuesday. He also hopes to have a candidate for town marshal.

Fletcher said about the only inducement to lure a hat into the marshal ring is the right to wear a badge since there is no money in sight to pay a gun toter for the resort village.

The election was called by County Judge Woody Pond after he was presented with a petition signed by 85 Tanglewood residents.

To Pay Respects To Dead Monday

Memorial Day will be observed in Canyon Monday with a breakfast and special services as well as the closing of several business.

Gold Star Mothers will be honored at a Veteran of Foreign Wars breakfast from 7:30 to 9 a.m. Monday in the Lucius Penick Post 5681 Home. Gold Star Mothers include Mrs. Gladys Blair, Mrs. Wauldine Hall, Mrs. Beulah McCoy, Mrs. Maria Hernandez and Mrs. Jeanie Hunter.

Public is invited to the breakfast.

At 11:30 a.m. a special Memorial Day service will be conducted at Dreamland Cemetery in honor of the deceased veterans and all persons interred at Dreamland. Rev. Baldwin Stribling, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will present the message. Participating in the activities will be the Army NJ ROTC, Navy Reserve Training Center, Marine Reserve, Air Force ROTC, Army J ROTC of Tascosa High School, Palo Duro High School and Amarillo High School, the American Legion and the VFW.

Flags will be placed on graves by VFW members.

A 21-gun salute will be fired and Taps will be played as part of the ceremony.

Several businesses will be closed in observance of the Memorial Day. City Hall and the Randall County Courthouse will not open Monday and the Post Office will be closed. Both Canyon banks will remain open.

Some Up, Some Down, School May Be Loser

BY MARGO CRABTREE

Juggling of city tax evaluations brought a swarm of taxpayers down on the equalization board Monday and Tuesday.

Changes came as a result of merging the city and school tax offices and as a necessity for school and city valuations to be made uniform.

Some city valuations were raised and some lowered but the tax assessor's office reported that city tax revenue will remain about the same as last year.

Some 75 persons showed up at the equalization board meeting with complaints. Every one of these fell into the category of people whose evaluations were raised.

The three member board, headed by Larry Hooper and aided by school tax assessor-collector Conway Kuykendall, changed some evaluations and upheld others after investigating all complaints.

Kuykendall said he feared the school district may lose money this year because of the city taking the same evaluations.

He said some school values were lowered to equalize with the city values, but at mid-week he could not give definite figures as to the difference in values the changes would make.

"Many people are paying the school taxes and not complaining," Kuykendall declared. "Now with the city taking the same evaluations it is drawing their attention to what they have been paying to the school."

Hooper felt strongly that the school district had not been hurt by the small changes made by the board. "We didn't cripple the school district," he commented.

Most of the 75 persons appearing said they had never said anything about the school evaluations being higher because as one man said, "I think we need to support the kids and schools."

But they expressed concern over the increase in evaluations from the city.

Tax questions became an issue this year because of the city's decision to combine the city tax and school tax offices.

"Texas law requires that school and city have the same assessed valuation percentage," City Manager George Louder said this week. In order to meet the requirement, the city lowered the assessed percentage from 50 per cent to 40 per cent, and raised the rate from $1.45 to $1.82.

Louder contended that total taxes have not been increased, although some individuals' taxes will be higher on the new system and some will be lower.

A thorny question which several persons brought to the equalization board was why taxes have apparently increased when in 1969 city commissioners assured the voters that if a sales tax were passed the taxes would be lowered.

Louder again explained that following the 1969 sales tax passage, the city lowered the rate from $1.60 per $100 evaluation to $1.45.

"This combining of the school and city tax offices will not change the tax (see TAX, page 6)

County Employees

Insurance Bid Taken

Bid for group insurance on county employees went to Republic National Life Insurance Company of Dallas as Randall County commissioners court met Monday.

The company stipulates that 75 percent of employees' families must participate. Cost to the county will be $13.27 and $16.09 for the participating family.

The $29.36 will cover an entire family including unmarried dependents up to 23 years of age either at home or in college. There were 14 bids.

The insurance goes into effect June 1. County employees will be assembled by departments beginning today for explanation of the policies.

In other business, the court refused an expense bill of $192.60 from Dick Dambold, assistant criminal district attorney, who attended a Southwest Legal Foundation meeting in Dallas. The court declined to pay the bill upon learning that the Council of Justice of Texas would pay it if Randall County does not.

The court purchased a chair from Russell's Stationery at $326.90 for the 181st District Court.

Commissioners discussed selling of county property in Canyon and UMBARGER.

Commissioner John Fulgenzi was appointed to study a request for payment of $3,100 as Randall County's share of an Amarillo Urban Development study.

Minutes of the court for Jan. 13, 1969 reflect that the court agreed to bear this amount of the expenditure. Amarillo's share is $7,748 and that of Potter County is

$4,650. Road Superintendent Bob Burns was granted a leave of absence to undergo open heart surgery. The leave will begin June 21 and Burns is slated to be back on the job (see INSURANCE, page 7)

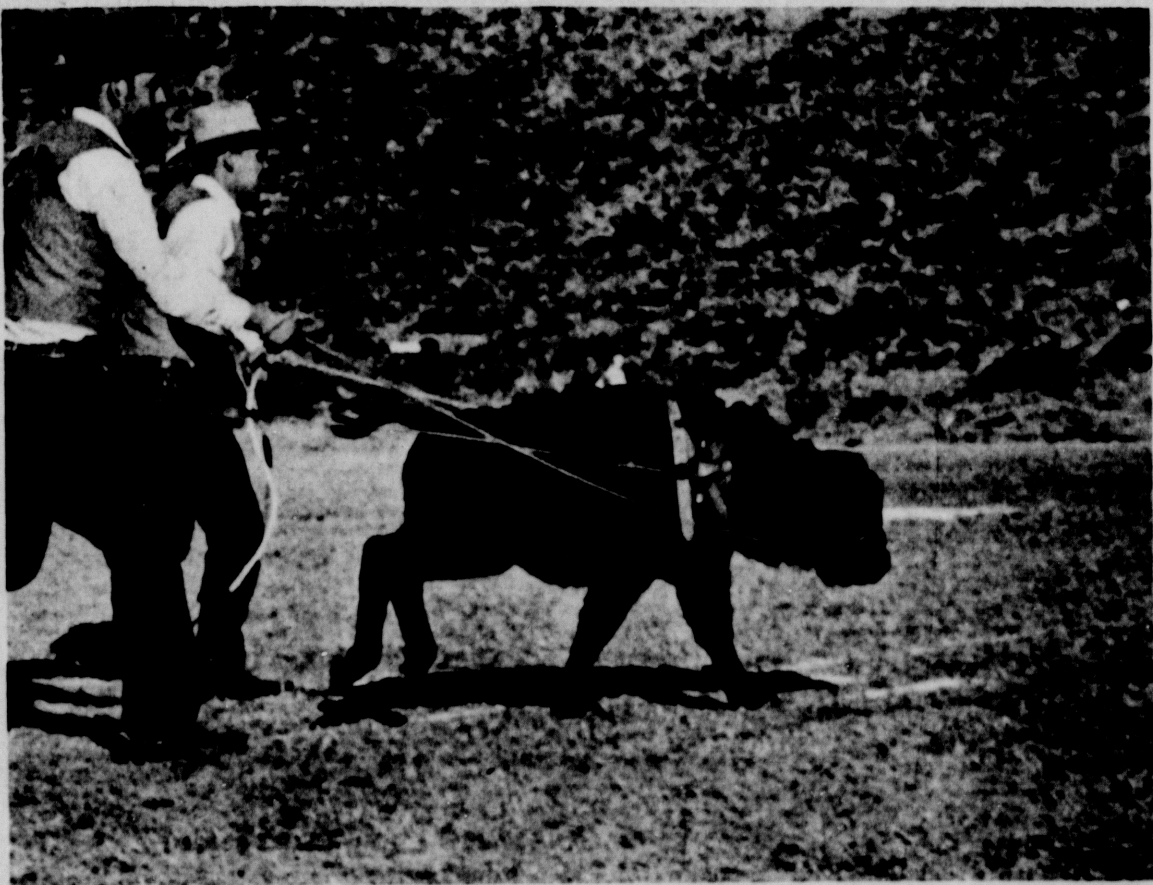

Graduation Is Friday

Some 188 Canyon High School 1971 graduating seniors will be awarded diplomas at 8 o'clock Friday night in the high school auditorium.

Principal John Sommers will present the class, and superintendent Jerry Jacobs will introduce each student. Dr. Dudley Moore, president of the school board, and board member Roscoe Richardson will award the diplomas.

Bill Reynolds will give the valedictory and Bob Bullock, salutatorian, will also speak.

Rev. Raymond Custer, pastor of the Grace Baptist Church, will give the invocation and the benediction.

Little Joe, the Buffalo mascot, went on a rampage Sunday night. Here he is shown in tow on the Buffalo football field. In his latest escape he proved again that one rope just won't hold Little Joe.

That's No Bull

Small Buff Real Tough

BY NELL WILLIAMS

Bulldogging buffalo is a new event for the West Texas State University Rodeo Club.

Bill Glidewell roped and bulldogged the university's 11-month-old mascot, Little Joe, to interrupt the calf's Sunday evening romp with a herd of dairy cows owned by Tommy Hunter.

Glidewell, aided by David Aigaki and Jimmy Hudgins then tied three of the calf's legs together piggin'-string style.

Hunter and his father-in-law, Emmett Coleman, helped hoist the 400 pounds of scared, indignant sinew into the back of a pick-up truck for a return trip to his wind-damaged pen southeast of Canyon.

Coleman said Hunter noticed the buffalo chasing his cows about 7 Sunday evening and called sheriff's officers who called the WT security office.

Patrolman Harold Dean Hooks called in the Rodeo Club members, who "did all the work," he said.

Dean said he stood about half a mile away while the loading was accomplished.

"That was about as close to that thing as I wanted till they got him in the back of that pick-up. He was pretty upset."

The buffalo was given to the university by the WT Ex-Students Association last October. He came from a ranch which raises buffalo for specialty restaurants. It has been proposed that WTSU trade the mascot for a calf when he grows too large to handle safely.

Glidewell is a senior from Dimmitt. Aigaki is an Olton senior, and Hudgins is a sophomore from Hermleigh.

WT Classes Set Monday

Registration for the first session of summer school at West Texas State University starts at 8 a.m. Monday in the Activities Center.

The first day of classes for the six-week first term is Tuesday.

Beginning freshmen can take the American College Testing (ACT) test at 8 a.m. Saturday in room 201 of University Complex South.

Registration for the five-week second session of summer school will be July 12. The ACT test for beginning freshmen who have not taken it will be July 10.

Dr. Don Cates, dean of admissions and registrar, said the class periods for the first term will be 80 minutes in length and those for the second session will be 90 minutes.

University Regents Meet At WT Friday

The Board of Regents of West Texas State University meets on campus Friday afternoon to consider faculty appointments and an operating budget for the 1971-72 academic year, Chairman Cloyce Box of Dallas said.

The names of new deans of the College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Business also will be presented to the regents for approval.

The meeting will start at 2 p.m. in the new addition of the East Dining Hall.

Dr. Eldon C. Lewis, 38, associate dean of the College of Business Administration at Wichita State University, has been appointed dean of the School of Business, effective July 1, if the regents approve (see REGENTS, page 6)

Hospital Study Groups Selected

Several subcommittees were appointed Tuesday as a prelude to action on enabling legislation which will allow establishment of a hospital district coinciding with Randall County Precinct 3.

Ray Grimes was named to head up planning. He will look at several small hospitals and bring ideas back to the general steering committee which is headed by Mrs. T.G. Hull, Jr. Grimes is manager of Neblett Memorial Hospital.

Vernon Harman, Bill Sternberg, and A.W. Lair were appointed to a site committee. A minimum of 10 acres of accessible land will be needed for a new hospital which is being contemplated.

Committees on costs and public relations will be named by Mrs. Hull in the near future.

A joint meeting of the steering committee and the Neblett Memorial Hospital Foundation board will be held at 5:30 o'clock the evening of June 8 in the Community Center Building to lay further plans.

Her Country First

Death Takes Great Lady

Patriotism was only part of Mary Ray Sligar's contributions to her community, state and nation.

Mrs. Sligar, who died Sunday, was an integral part of the past in Canyon and she was a contributing force to the future.

Her friends and family recalled this week many incidents surrounding the life of this long-time teacher, innovator and patriot.

Mrs. Sligar was born October 29, 1894 in Corbin, Kentucky. She married Lawrence Sligar in Clarendon March 15, 1918 and the couple moved to Canyon in 1934. Mr. Sligar died in 1941, but Mrs. Sligar kept her family and career growing.

She attended high school in Clarendon and completed the tenth grade. Her teaching career began immediately afterward. She taught in a rural school in Donley County in 1912 followed by eight other teaching positions before attending West Texas State where she received her Bachelor of Science degree in 1937.

She had begun teaching the second grade in the West Texas State College Demonstration School in 1935, and continued in that position until 1949 with a brief leave of absence in the early 1940s to serve her country.

When World War II broke out Mrs. Sligar wanted to do her part for her country but she was not accepted into the WAVES, but her determination outweighed all deterrents. As her daughter, Mrs. Annadel Bean of Amarillo recalls, "She located a man in Washington who was going to join the service, so she took his job over while he was gone."

She worked for a year at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, and a great opportunity opened to her. While in the area, Mrs. Sligar learned of a program at the University of Maryland known as Human Development Education. She enrolled in the program for three semesters, and when she returned to WT a year later, she was prepared to train others in the course.

In 1950 she was put in charge of the Human Development Education program within the Education Department and for four years she directed a field program in the course meeting with in-service groups of teachers as consultant. The program was recognized and put into operation in most Panhandle towns including Amarillo, and after 1954, Mrs. Sligar took the program ideas to PTA and civic groups interested in child development.

Mrs. Sligar, who had wedged a masters degree into her busy hours, was active in several organizations including the Texas State Teachers Association, National Educators Association, American Association of University Women, and the Association for Childhood Education International. She served as secretary of the American Cancer Society for two years. Three years ago Mrs. Sligar was or-

FROM THE CANYON RIM

The Lyndon Johnson Library was dedicated in Austin Saturday.

It cost the people of the United States $18.6 million. That's only a fraction of what the man for whom it is named cost his fellow countrymen during a career launched toward its zenith by the infamous Duval County long count in 1948.

In treasure expended we can count in the billions.

In the blood of our sons, husbands, and brothers there is no price tag.

America can forgive Mr. Johnson the mistakes which squandered our money and left us in spiraling inflation, yet on the brink of depression.

We shall find it harder to forgive his taking us into a war politicians, including Mr. Johnson, had no intention of winning resulting in 55,000 dead and at least another 30,000 walking dead.

I shall try to remember Mr. Johnson without rancor. I do not think that I shall ever remember him as a great Texan.

The walking dead of Vietnam to whom I referred earlier are the subject of a column by Stewart Alsop in a recent issue of Newsweek.

Alsop said between 10 and 15 percent of the American troops in Vietnam are on hard drugs — meaning heroin in almost every case.

Alsop said he gets his information from provost marshal estimates.

In Vietnam heroin is cheap and available. When a GI addict returns to this country he will find the monkey on his back costing him $40 to $60 a day to feed.

Most of them will have to steal to get this kind of money. Another horrible thing about the heroin habit, the cure rate is very low. Most of those hooked on this grandfather of all hard drugs already have little more to look forward to than a life of crime and prison.

According to Rep. Robert Steele of the House Foreign Affairs committee the average age of the serviceman-addict is a pitiful 20.5 years.

I find it hard to understand leaders who take their country into a deadly conflict while harboring a pre-disposition to lose or stalemate.

I do not think the American people will tolerate this sort of thing again.

Enemies of America can take warning from a recent statement of the national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars who said that powerful group of veterans will never again countenance a no-win conflict.

In a war of attrition against Europeans we might have fought at least to a draw... with Asiatics — never.

To us an open faucet dripping American blood for 10 years is unendurable. To the Asiatic 10 years is nothing. While our history is figured in decades theirs is figured in centuries or even thousands of years.

I think the next time Americans commit their troops to combat it will be because they believe the country to be in mortal danger and they will be ready to risk Armageddon.

It's about time someone said something in defense of the so-called military-industrial complex we hear so glibly maligned.

Many of those who malign this partnership either are too ignorant to know that it must exist to protect our country or they are not interested in this country having any protection.

Let's take a brief look at history.

At America's entry into World War I our armed forces had about a quarter million Springfield rifles and needed 2 million more.

We started out to equip with Springfield rifles but our industry just couldn't do it. Luckily some of our factories were producing Enfields for the British and they managed to eke out two million of these by the time the war was over.

In the air we began the war with 55 planes and flew mostly French Spads. General Billy Mitchell had 1,500 planes under his command at the end of the conflict and about 800 were of French design.

We had no military-industrial complex. We had no armament either.

We were in little better shape when the storm clouds of World War II approached although we were already tooling up to become the "Arsenal of Democracy."

The early days of the war again were days of retreat, gloom and defeat. In both world wars oceans and the bodies of our allies were between us and the enemy. We had time to get our industry into production to produce the tools of victory.

Hiroshima and the ICBM wiped all that out. Only a half hour lies between us and the launching pads of rockets with nuclear warheads pointed at American heartland.

As Eisenhower said, the military-industrial complex indeed is something to watch but it is not something to destroy for without it we ourselves would be in danger of being destroyed.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

America is obsessed with mental illness. An affliction that affects almost every family in our country merits our concern. If we would give more attention to the things conducive to mental health, perhaps we would have less illness to plague us.

Ours has been labeled a sick society; in several areas that is probably true.

If an individual can discern and accept reality (truth), and can relate comfortably and productively to his society, he is mentally healthy. A society is as healthy as the individuals of which it is composed — especially its leaders.

For the past generation or two, many well-meaning Americans have been trying to prove the allegation that all men are created equal. One has only to observe the many congenitally deformed, diseased, and mentally deficient unfortunates among us to know this lofty philosophy is not true.

But social action based on this false premise has created several malignancies in our society.

There are various theories behind social promotion that enables illiterates to graduate from our high schools. One is that it is difficult to earn a decent living without a high school diploma. And everyone is entitled to a decent living.

But the truth is that one who is not capable of earning a high school diploma cannot hold a position that requires one after he gets it. The resulting conflict, frustration, and guilt feelings tends to generate mental illness for employers as well as employees.

Actually, many jobs are more dependent on skill than on formal education.

Sociologists contend a child should promote every year because it is frustrating to an adult to be thrust into a society where he cannot compete.

If all men are created equal, they should be able to achieve on the same level. So why all the fuss about race mixing? Why not let children go to school in their own neighborhood? Would that not eliminate endless conflict and frustration?

The truth is that there are zealous, industrious, ambitious, intellectual people in all races, and they cannot be held down. And there are lazy, indifferent, incompetent, morose people in all races, and they cannot be held up.

There are all kinds of people in the world, and all kinds of work that needs to be done. When the government encourages people to refuse work that is not dignified and financially attractive, many of the essential mental jobs go begging.

Thousands of girls are being imported from foreign countries to work as maids, cooks, and nurses because too many American girls find such work beneath their dignity.

(How much dignity is there in living on welfare?)

When a working mother has to slave over housework until the wee hours of the morning, and then pay taxes to support "maids" on welfare, it's enough to drive her to a mental ward.

Many cafes report they are closing because they cannot get help — in the midst of unemployment.

Kentucky tobacco farmers complain that long lines of the unemployed refuse $30 for 6 hours work cutting tobacco.

This kind of conduct generates both guilt and resentment — key components of mental illness.

If washing dishes, sweeping floors, or cutting grass is all a man is capable of doing — or the only work available — then he should do it with pride. It is honest and essential work.

Equality requires constant coercion. Coercion produces frustration. Frustration produces mental illness.

And all this to give us something we do not want. Americans do not really want equality. We want freedom. Our 300,000 men who sacrificed their lives during W.W.II died for freedom — not equality.

Equal men are never free. And free men will never be equal.

A measure of freedom is essential to happiness. And a little happiness is essential to mental health.

"TEXAS" Program Originals Are At Canyon Art Gallery

Paul Laune's original drawings for the 1971 "TEXAS" program are currently on display at the Canyon Art Gallery.

The artist from Phoenix, Arizona is a native of Woodward, Oklahoma but worked on his father's ranchland in the Texas Panhandle while he was growing up.

Laune became an experienced hand with horses and cattle while working.

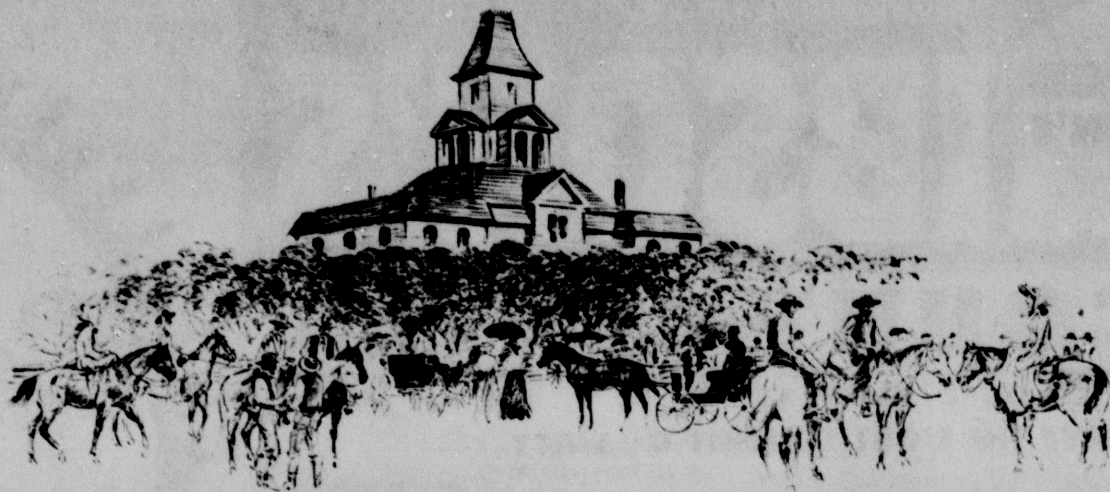

His art studies have included classes at the American Academy of Art and the Art Institute in Chicago and the Art Students' League.

The artists has also studied and traveled in Europe, where in Rome he studied etching in the studio of Carlo Petrucci. He has been a free lancer since he was head of the art department of the New York SUN. His illustrations have appeared in many books and his paintings hang in homes from coast to coast.

Previously "TEXAS" program artists are Don Ray, 1966; G. Harvey, 1967; Ross Stefan, 1968; Bryon Wolfe, 1969; and Ben Carlton Meade, 1970.

One of the original drawings by artist Paul Laune of Phoenix, Arizona, that will appear in the 1971 "TEXAS" souvenir program is this one of early pioneer days at the Collingsworth County Courthouse. The thirty-piece collection is currently on display at the Canyon Art Gallery.

Employment Center Set To Open

Twenty-five students have already signed up at the student employment center which officially opens Monday, said Becky Wesley who is in charge of the center.

The center, which will be open from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. daily, will be based in the administrative offices of the high school throughout the summer, or as long as it is needed, she said.

Registered students at the center will be referred to employers who have called the center with job openings of "any type employment," said Miss Wesley.

Students from age 16 or older may apply at the center, although high school students are the main target of the center.

Canyon school board decided in a recent meeting to continue the employment center for the third year.

Pool Opens Monday

Canyon's city swimming pool will open Monday for the summer months according to Glen Metcalf, city clerk.

The pool will be open each day from 1:30-7 p.m. Fee will be 35 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

Season's passes will be sold for $12.50 for individuals and $40 for families. The pool will also be rented for $5 an hour any night and pool lifeguards will be available, Metcalf said.

Bicycle Inspection Slated In Pool Parking Lot

Kiwanis Club and Canyon Police Department will co-sponsor a bicycle inspection and licensing Saturday in the Conner Park swimming pool parking lot.

The inspection, which will begin at 9 a.m. and continue through 1 p.m., is open to children of all ages who ride bikes.

No work will be done on the bikes, according to Bill Hillen, chairman of the program for the Kiwanis Club, but the children will be told what should be done, if anything, to make them safe.

Police chief Calvin Costley said policemen will be on hand to give a bike test and a license to those who pass the test.

Costley also said that a safe driving certificate will be given yearly to riders who have a year with no accidents or incidents. "We will present the certificates next year at this time when we inspect bikes again," Costley pointed out.

He also said that kids who do not make the inspection and licensing should come to the police station from 1-3 p.m. the first Wednesday of each month to be tested.

Florescent tape will be put on each bike and U.S. flag stickers will be given those who want one.

Safety rules will be printed and issued during the inspection hours.

Three reasons for the inspection were listed: 1. to check the safety of the bikes, 2. to make sure bike riders know safety rules, and 3. to help children associate closely with local police.

Reception Set For Dr. Lewis

A reception honoring Dr. Eldon Lewis, new Dean of the School of Business at West Texas State University, will be held June 8 at the Amarillo Club from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

The reception is being co-sponsored by the West Texas Ex-Students, Inc., and the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

The come-and-go affair is being held for area business leaders and educators. A press conference will precede the reception at 2:30 p.m.

Dr. Lewis is coming to WTSU from Wichita State University.

The 38-year-old Dean received his BBA degree from Washburn University from Topeka, Kansas in 1959, his MBA from the University of Kansas in 1961, his Ph.D. from the University of Missouri in 1967, and his CPA certificate from the state of Kansas in 1963.

He is a member of the American Accounting Association, the National Association of Accountants, the American Institute of CPAs, and the Kansas Society of CPAs.

dained a deacon in the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon.

Funeral services for Mrs. Sligar were at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at the First Presbyterian Church officiated by Rev. Baldwin Stribling.

Burial was at 3 p.m. in McLean Cemetery in McLean under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Pallbearers included Denny Park, Robert Warren, William Dayen, William Counselor, Roland Black, and Jay D. Allen.

Honorary pallbearers were the Board of Deacons at the First Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Annadel Bean of Amarillo, and Mrs. Hallie Nell Harrison of San Diego, California; four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Regents...

He will succeed Dr. C.C. Callarman, 66, who has been dean for 15 years.

The name of the new dean of the College of Arts and Sciences will be announced at the board meeting. The present dean, Dr. Ray Malzahn, will become vice president for academic affairs on Sept. 1.

rate," Loudder declared. "The school was at 40 per cent and the city was at 50 per cent, so we lowered the percentage to 40 per cent and raised the rate to $1.82."

He determined the change will not alter the actual amount of dollars coming into the city. It will merely change the evaluation of some properties, Loudder said.

He predicted some $267,000 will be collected in 1971 taxes, which is approximately the same as 1970.

Loudder also pointed out that more ad valorem taxes would have to be collected this year if the sales tax had not passed.

Several persons questioned the difference in evaluations between the city and school books. Loudder again explained the city has not had a full time tax assessor-collector in five years and assessments have not been kept current, whereas the school has a fulltime staff which has a yearly assessment program.

Aid Given To Combat Drought

Farmers Home Administration State Director J. Lynn Futch announced that Randall County has been designated by the Secretary of Agriculture for the making of emergency loans to farmers and ranchers who have sustained substantial losses on account of the drought.

most of the problems arising this week was because people did not understand the change in evaluations.

"The school has been using the same evaluations for three years," Hooper noted. "But the city is now taking the same values that the school has been using."

Hooper said the three board members, including Fred Begert, a local farmer, and Earl Marrs, a South Amarillo developer, tried to be fair in the evaluations brought before the board.

"We do not raise or lower evaluations," Hooper determined. "We simply equalize the property values."

Runners up Saturday in the Pitch, Hit and Throw contest sponsored by Phillips 66 were from left Johnny Christopher, Stephen Palmer, Brent Anderson and Don Barker. Johnny is son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Christopher, Stephen is son of Mr. and Mrs. James Palmer, Brent is the son of Mrs. Veda Anderson, and Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams.

Three boys were named winners in the Pitch, Hit and Throw contest Saturday sponsored by Phillips 66. From left Ken Magness, Alan Rozell and Stan Sanders will compete June 5 in Amarillo and winners there will travel to Houston to try for victory. Houston winners will go to Cincinnati and winners in the national contest will receive a college scholarship.

A GAS outdoor grill gives food a tangy outdoor flavor without the time and bother of charcoal fire. Char-broiled flavor comes from the smoke of meat juices dripping on hot briquets. Charcoal itself provides no flavor.

Permanent ceramic briquets in the gas grill reach cooking heat in a few minutes, and there is no long wait to start cooking. The heat is regulated manually so there is no need to move a grill up or down.

Umbarger News

BY SUSAN DOLLE
Days spent winding up the school year are hectic and happy, but this year they are also days of regret. Tomorrow, May 28, will be the last school day in Umbarger. Books, desks, and equipment from the Umbarger school are being transferred to other schools in the Canyon system or left for the Umbarger community while the school board is deciding how to care for the buildings that remain.

Umbarger school will never again be a place of learning. Three years ago, school board members asked me to teach here but promised no long tenure; they could sadly foresee the death of the school. Now, the only place that the school will live will be in the minds and hearts of those who studied here. Happy memories of teachers and friends will remind them of the dedication and determination of the community to have a school that would serve the needs of the children. A country school is a priceless jewel in the treasure of public education; I would wish every teacher a few years in such a system without a tight time schedule and with the congeniality of small groups.

Time marches on, making changes good and bad. The children here are moving to a fine system of education. But the closing of this school serves as a reminder: Let us take care of our schools. What if, because of our lack of initiative or moral determination, our schools would be taken away? It will never happen? The schools will always be there? Not so. They will be there only if we maintain interest in how they are run and what they are teaching.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the forty-two children at Umbarger school will present the last program. The first, second and third graders will give a play, "Peter Cottontail," and the upper grades will sing. It will be farewell, but a very fond one.

Congratulations to all the graduating seniors. You have worked hard to receive your diploma and will continue to offer your best as you move in society. Proof of teenagers' determination can be seen in the recent work of the Catholic Youth Organization which has been to remodel the basement of the parish hall as an activity center. Painting, paneling, rewiring and closet-making are made to look easy. In addition, the group is planning a trip to the children's home in Panhandle, beautifying the church grounds, and sponsoring a clean-up campaign within Umbarger.

Beauty spot of the month: the yard of Mr. E. J. Friemel. Iris, roses, and peonies, fruit trees and green, green grass are given tender loving care. Drive by to see the yard and you'll see Mrs. Friemel working away.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Meyer, Sr., left Monday for Kansas City, Mo. to help their daughter Rita move back to the Texas Panhandle. She will be studying at West Texas this summer, catching up on Texas history.

Mark Foster Dies, Final Rites Held

Funeral services for Mark A. Foster, 1009 Third Avenue, were conducted in the First United Methodist Church Monday evening at 6 o'clock.

Rev. Strauss Atkinson of Plainview officiated assisted by Rev. J. Frank Peery. Burial followed in Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

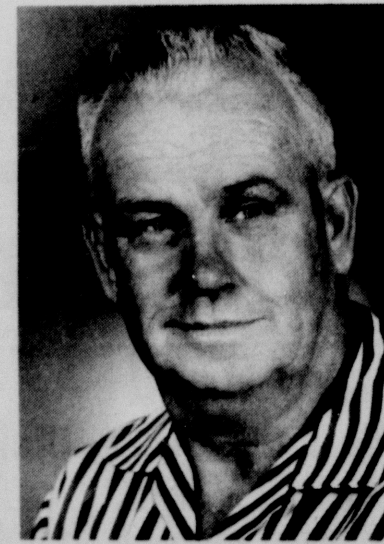

Mr. Foster, who died Saturday afternoon in Neblett Hospital, was born November 29, 1905 in Canyon. The 65-year-old Canyon man married Erma Dowd Foster in Dimmitt June 15, 1924.

He was a member of the First United Methodist Church of Canyon. He worked for the Mann and American Bakeries for about 35 years.

Pallbearers were grandsons Donald Mark Olson, Arthur Chris Olson, David Carter, Robbie Carter, Joe Mike Carter, Bill C. Dodgin, and Ben Peckenpaugh.

Honorary pallbearers were Bob Clark, Leslie Key, Pat Britain, Claude Moore, Al Zoppelli, Alvin McDonald, Lorenzo Wirt, Jack Leary and Jack Gladman.

Survivors include daughters Mrs. Donald Olson, Mrs. Charles Peckenpaugh, Mrs. Nig Carter, all of Canyon, and Mrs. Sue Dodgin of Amarillo; and 10 grandchildren.

Mrs. Donald Day of 2409 9th Ave. was graduated recently from North West Texas Hospital School of Nursing tying for valedictorian honors.

Graduation exercises were held at First Presbyterian Church in Amarillo.

Mrs. Day, mother of three, received a B.A. degree in English from West Texas State University. She completed the last two years of nursing requirements at the hospital.

Following state board examinations in July, Mrs. Day plans to begin work at the Psychiatric Pavilion in Amarillo in September. A nursing student must pass the board exams to become a registered nurse.

The court accepted a check from the adult probation department for $1,171.01 received in probation fees paid by probationers. This was for a period from March 8 through May 15 of this year. County Judge Woody Pond said $3,008.51 has been received since June 4, 1970.

Commissioners were notified that Pioneer Gas Company will put a 3-inch steel pipe line under McCormick Road in order to serve Siesta Mobile Homes.

Canvass of the May 18 election showed that 2,195 persons voted out of 20,508 registered voters which would be about 10 percent. Only amendment 4 carried in Randall County.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton discussed pending legislation which might affect his office. Commissioners agreed that the court house will be closed Monday for observance of Memorial Day.

Wilson's Writing Career Is Star-Studded Experience

BY CAROL CRAIN
Brad Wilson's writing career began with a tornado and hasn't slowed down since.

"I write about what I know," stated the 1962 WTSU graduate, turned golf pro. "I have never written anything that isn't related to my profession, that way I can write with conviction and confidence."

He addressed the Writer's Association of the Golden Spread Friday evening at a dinner held in Dr. J. E. Low residence with some 30 persons attending.

Wilson's writing career began while a senior at Silverton High School when the town was struck by a tornado in 1957. The writer penned a first person account of the incident and his mother, Mrs. Glenna Wilson, now of Canyon, entered the piece in the Panhandle Pen Woman's Writer's Conference held at WTSU.

Wilson was notified that he was a winner by Dr. A. K. Knott head of the WTSU English Department. "I thought I would get third," he said, "when I didn't get third I thought I would get second"... however, Wilson took home first place money of $25 for his effort, much to his surprise.

The money was the first he had ever received for writing... but, was not the last.

Upon graduation from high school he went to Wayland Baptist College in Plainview on a basketball scholarship. The next year he transferred to Clarendon Junior College and played tennis and golf.

Brad came to West Texas State University from the junior college, began to major in journalism, became the sports editor of the college paper "The Prairie", and played on the golf team. Later the sports-minded Wilson changed his major to physical education with a minor in journalism and hoped to coach basketball.

After graduation, however, Brad turned professional and went to Phoenix, Arizona. He met Nancy, his wife, in Sun City and the two were married.

At the La Jolla Country Club there, he met Paul Runyan, pro golfer who is in the PGA Hall of Fame. Runyan believed in Brad and with the help of some friends raised $6,600 for the warm friendly Texan to go on the professional golfer's tour.

"$6,600 won't last long on the professional golf tour," Brad noted, but he and Nancy were game and the two went across country traveling some 24,00 miles in a six-month period.

After long hours of driving, few rookies on the tour, up to 200 of them, score low enough to get one of two dozen positions in the tourney.

With money running out at the next to the last tournament which was held at the West Chester Country Club, Brad had an idea and drew on his journalistic experience.

Lots of funny things had happened to the rookie en route and during the tourneys. Golf magazines, he thought, were always writing about the pros like Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, but never the rookie.

Why not a new slant in a golf story giving the rookies' point of view, which is sometimes funny, sometimes sad, but never boring.

After thinking the matter through Wilson picked up the phone and called Dick Aultman, editor of Golf Digest, the biggest golfers' magazine in the country. The Digest is currently owned by the New York Times.

After a luncheon discussion of the story with the editor, Wilson got busy. The story, entitled "Down the Up Staircase... or what it takes to go broke on the pro tour," was published in March 1968. The free-lancer received a nice check for $600 for the effort.

Aultman's advice to the young writer about that first meeting was "write it the way you told it to me." He has followed that advice ever since.

The next stop was San Diego's Stardust Country Club where Brad began to teach golf professionally.

The new job led to an idea for an on-the-course game interview with golfers in the Land of the Celebrities. He outlined the idea of PAR magazine in New York... and "they like it," he said.

He began setting up interview matches with celebrities including Lawrence Welk, orchestra leader; Dick Martin of Laugh In; Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts; Billy Graham, evangelist; Willie Mosconi, fifteen times pocket billiards champion; Jack Lemmon, actor; Phil Harris, actor; John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers; and others.

For the celebrities series, Wilson took a professional photographer with him and played a round of golf with each personality.

"I take very few notes," he commented, "and rely on memory for the story."

He related that in each story he would try to humanize the star as much as possible and found all he interviewed interesting and enjoyable people.

His interview with Johnny Unitas was set up for him by WT ex Jerry Logan, a former Buff football star and classmate who plays for the Superbowl champion Baltimore Colts.

"Writing has been a good sideline," Brad pointed out.

Wilson has recently done ghost writing for pro Billy Casper and Larry Hinson, who won $120,000 last year without winning a tournament.

He has also had a junior golf series in PAR magazine.

"I try to write with fresh ideas, new approaches and individualize my way of writing an article," he noted that his articles pertained mainly "to instruction".

"I use different angles and keep it light and down to earth."

His advice to other writers included "write what you know about and what you do well."

"The main thing about writing is doing it."

Sometimes articles which are rejected by one magazine are sold to others in the field, "don't get discouraged," he told his audience.

Wilson has had around 35 articles published in national magazines since 1968, plus another two dozen in his syndicated golf column.

"Writing should be kept simple," he noted.

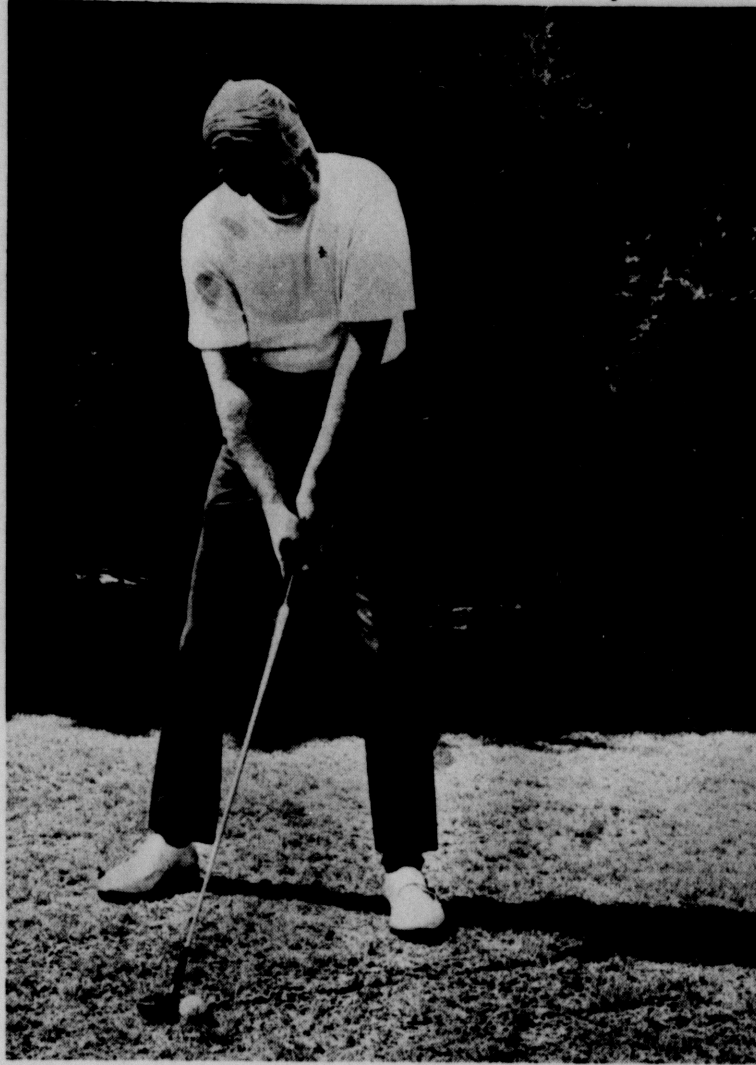

"It takes years and years of hard work of a golf pro to make his swing as simple as possible."

"In writing," he related, "I make the story as simple as I can, so it is understandable."

Currently Wilson is working on an illustrated book entitled "What Is Golf?" which will be published in the near future.

The Wilsons were in Canyon last week visiting with Brad's mother. They returned to San Diego Sunday. The couple have one child, Heather Michelle, 18 months.

Brad Wilson, golf pro at the Stardust Country Club in San Diego, was in Canyon last week lecturing to the Panhandle Pen Women and the Writer's Association of the Golden Spread. Brad, the son of Mrs. Glenna Wilson, is the West Coast Editor of PAR magazine and has interviewed various celebrities at the editor's position.

WT Senior Killed In Car Crash

A WTSU senior, Carson V. Sanford, 22, was killed in a head-on collision in South Amarillo about 2:15 Sunday morning.

The accident occurred in the south-bound lane of the Canyon Expressway.

Sanford and the driver of the other car, Marvin Joseph Andrews, 49, of Amarillo, were both pronounced dead at the scene by Randall County Justice of the Peace W. W. Hancock.

Sgt. Jack Granger of the Amarillo Police Department said that the Andrews car was northbound in a south-bound lane.

A third car clipped the back of one vehicle shortly after the first two came to rest. The driver, Wayne Glendon Davies, and a passenger, Janie Lou Hawkins, suffered minor injuries. Both are from Bovina.

Funeral services for Sanford were held Tuesday afternoon at the Stinnett Church of Christ.

Burial was in Sunset Memorial Cemetery in Stinnett.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sanford of Stinnett, a brother, and two sisters. Dr. Willis Harrison of Canyon is a cousin.

An accounting major at WTSU, he had planned to attend law school after graduation.

Sanford was a member of Phi Delta Theta and a graduate of Stinnett High School.

Gene Howe News

BY PAULINE HEFLEY

It appears that many, many of our Gene Howe bodies are the type of people that identify with the "Achievers" in this world. So, we are sending a hearty "Congratulations" to Ronny Cates and Bobby Team who were recently elected to the Student Council at Canyon High and will be going to a seminar for this very soon.

A Big Congratulations to the third and fourth grade softball team of Gene Howe. These girls, some eighteen of them, had their first practice game with San Jacinto School in Amarillo and won with a final score of 32 to 13. Coaches for the team are Mac and Dinana Thrash along with the capable assistance of the Thrashes' older daughter, Kim.

An accolade is also sent to Mac Thrash who recently obtained his 32nd degree in the Masonic Lodge.

Bryan Young and Kurt Johnson, sixth graders at Gene Howe, have made the Symphonic Band at Canyon

Junior High which is composed of 8th and 9th graders. Congratulations boys, we are proud of you.

The Doug Fords have had company as of late — Mrs. Ford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson, were here from Durant, Oklahoma, for several days. Understand the Fords have a new mutt around the house. It seems as though they found three puppies on the road and took them home — gave two away — and kept one — very appropriately naming it Pebbles.

Guess ya'll saw in the paper where our friends, the Lawrence Taylors, are going to have a wedding long about July 31. Lovely Linda will become the bride of Gary Dean Cook, son of the Dean Cooks in Canyon. Bet there will be lots of excitement between now and then.

Congratulations to Jan Moser and Cindy Johnson who recently had their spring piano recitals under the direction of Mrs. Norma Sutton, a former residence of Canyon.

Happy, happy birthday to Joan Taylor. Understand Beldon Dampf also had a "Happy" with a party down in the Palo Duro Canyons. Those on the all day excursion were Bryan Young, Quain Palmer, Charles Gibson, Kurt Johnson, and Mrs. and Mrs. D.

Canning Program Set June 1

A preservation demonstration program will be sponsored by the Randall County Home Demonstration Council Tuesday, June 1 at 1:30 p.m. in the Farm Bureau Building.

Miss Katie Kilgore of Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation will demonstrate the actual canning of vegetables and fruits.

Miss Kilgore is a trained home economist with two bachelors degrees from Oklahoma College of Liberal Arts and a master's degree from the University of Oklahoma.

She is a member of many professional women's organizations including American Women in Radio and Television.

Emphasis will be placed on the proper selection, preparation, and processing of vegetables, fruits, and tomatoes. She will explain the dos and don'ts of canning as well as answers to many canning questions and problems that home canners may have.

A vegetable will be canned, using the hot and cold pack methods of preparation and the important steps in processing in the pressure cooker.

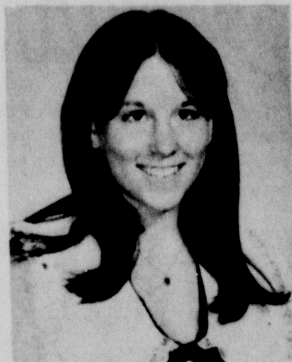

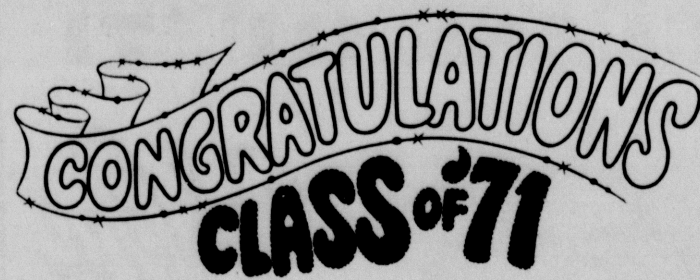

Tomatoes and one or two fruits will be canned using the boiling water bath method of processing. Emphasis will be given to this method and reasons why it should be used for fruits and tomatoes.

The open kettle method will also be discussed. Miss Kilgore will tell why it is not recommended for canning tomatoes and fruits then give points to be remembered when using the open kettle for jams, jellies, and pickles.

There will be a limited discussion on freezing as to selection, preparation, containers, and freezing methods as well as storage.

A question and answer session will be held after the demonstration.

Dr. Kjelson is on the faculty of the University of Miami, Florida. He has been a lecturer and clinician at many national music gatherings and conducted several all-state choirs. He conducts annual summer European tours with adult singers from throughout the United States.

Reynolds is band director at the University of Wisconsin.

Knowledge, Boost Spell Success

Mrs. Lucille Lawson graduated from Amarillo Vocational School of Nursing Friday night in what is her longest step forward down the road of success.

Mrs. Lawson, one of fifteen children, went through the Lubbock school system and graduated from high school in Slaton. She and her husband David moved to Canyon in 1969 as he became employed with West Texas State University as a custodian.

To bring in extra cash, Mrs. Lawson cleaned some of Canyon's finest homes. In one of them she met Mrs. Frank Blackburn.

Thinking that Mrs. Lawson was especially bright Mrs. Blackburn encouraged her to go into the LVN training program. She even talked to Buff Morris, who arranged for a Texas Opportunity Plan loan for her studies.

"Carolyn has encouraged me so much," Lucille said with love and admiration in her voice.

"And, the program has certainly been rewarding," she noted. "I had to learn to study all over again. . . I hadn't been to school in 13 years."

Mrs. Lawson attends classes 8 hours a day during the week and then works for Mrs. Blackburn on Saturdays, "for lunch money."

"Carolyn has certainly helped me out. . . I have had to study hard."

"I don't want to let her down. . . she has so much faith in me," she said sincerely.

Mrs. Lawson, who is currently doing her clinical work at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo, has been doing work in the maternity ward, "of all things God created," she stated, "life is the most unique. . . it's really amazing."

The Lawsons had no children of their own. "Just one childish husband," she laughed.

In her spare moments Lucille finds time to sew and read. She also enjoys singing.

Mrs. Lawson's class graduated with the spring class, but will have to continue their clinical work through September 4. The group will then have two weeks off before taking the State Board Exam in Austin.

The road will not end with Mrs. Lawson's LVN certificate, however, for she hopes to work a while and then get her RN.

As a tribute to Mrs. Lawson's success the Blackburns hosted a graduation reception in her honor Thursday night in their home. Twenty-one of her classmates attended. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Julian Castillo of Amarillo and Mrs. and Mrs. Eddie Knowles of Canyon. Castillo is head of the Bio-Medical Arts at Amarillo College. Knowles is president of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

Success Story

Mrs. Lucille Lawson was honored at a reception in the Frank Blackburn home last Thursday evening. Mrs. Lawson graduated from LVN School Friday night. She says her success is owed to the Blackburns.

4 Ineligible For Buff Sports

Only one West Texas State University athlete became ineligible scholastically at the end of this semester, but three athletes have been ruled not eligible because of a junior college transfer rule.

The three junior college transfers, brought in to start the spring semester are not eligible because they failed to either graduate from their respective junior college, or maintain high enough grades to transfer prior to two full years.

The juco transfers are footballers Kenneth Lipkins, Bill Trisciani and Ray Kesey. Mel Shivers, another football player, became scholastically ineligible because of poor grades.

Lipkins ended spring drills as a starting safety man. Trisciani and Kesey were reserve linemen. Shivers was a defensive back last fall, but switched to split receiver this spring. He had no playing time.

The NCAA just made clear a ruling on junior college transfers which had been on the books for some time. That judgment affected athletes and colleges throughout the nation.

Looking For Jobs

Graduates Searching

BY MARGO CRABTREE

Jobs are at a premium this year, unless you walked off with a degree in agriculture, according to heads of departments at West Texas State University.

Although definite statistics have not been compiled, professors at the university voiced problems for the 1971 graduates.

That is, professors in fields other than agriculture.

Ken Wendland, acting head of the agriculture business and economics department, said of the 35 ag graduates all but a couple have jobs.

But Dr. Kenneth Laycock, dean of the College of Education, said teachers are feeling a job shortage pinch because superintendents are taking more time to make selections.

"Superintendents have the greatest choices they have ever had for the number of vacancies they have to fill," he declared.

Dr. Laycock did mention that accurate statistics would not be available for another month, when graduates begin hearing from the schools where they have applied.

He also pointed out in some areas such as special education the market is open and teachers are needed.

"It is one of our main jobs in our accountability concept to let our students know which areas are overstaffed, and what areas of education need instructors," Laycock continued.

Laycock did say he had expected a job shortage — or an abundance of teachers — in the undergraduate level, but he had not expected the shortage to hit the doctoral level.

"We are deluged with applications from persons with doctorates," the head of the school said about his own department. "And we just do not have that many openings."

The main job shortage for teachers seems to be in the social studies and the English fields.

Dr. Zeke Marchant of the business department said business graduates can find jobs but not easily in this area of the country.

"If they will leave this area, they can find good jobs," Dr. Marchant said. "Especially in accounting; they can find those jobs anywhere."

He mentioned that many companies have asked students to go to other areas to train and then perhaps return to this area, but many of the students have not wanted to leave the Panhandle. "Students think there is a job shortage, but if they are willing to move they can find a job."

Dr. Robert Burton, head of the geology department, says "hustle" is the key to job finding this year.

"As a general statement I would say we have lean pickens this year," Dr. Burton stressed. "But if the graduates hustle and look for jobs, they can have one or two offers."

He noted in years past seniors had jobs before they graduated, but this year that was not the situation.

Canyon Pastor Reappointed Here At FUMC

The Rev. J. Frank Peery has been appointed and reappointed as pastor of the First Methodist Church at the 62nd session of the Northwest Texas Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church.

The conference began Monday and is ending today in Amarillo.

This will be Rev. Peery's fourth year at the church. He will also serve as vice chairman of the annual conference board of trustees and will serve for another year on the conference board of Christian Social Concerns.

Lay delegates from the Canyon church to the annual conference are Frank Dillard and Jack Downing. Also attending are Curtis Cadenhead, director of youth, and Miss Mattie Sue Howell, director of Christian education.

ine," Dr. Burton declared.

"It is competitive this year, but if a fellow hustles, has a good appearance and then has a passion for geology, he will find a job," Dr. Burton predicted.

He was encouraging to students hunting for work: "No one starves in geology."

And the field of economics, Dr. Barry Duman said WT had few majors this year in economics and word about jobs has not been determined.

However, he was discouraging about the job market for economists.

"The job market is not good," he explained. But he did say if a fellow hustles, a job or two would turn up somewhere.

But the story sounds different around the ag barns. Wendland said the 1971 graduates are employed in feed lots, chemical companies, feed companies, bank positions, farming and ranching jobs, and he said several calls have come in for managers for hog operations.

So on the advice of their professors, WT grads are hustling after those golden opportunities to transform them into job security. And future graduates are being encouraged to seek agriculture as a major.

ALT Plans Series

A film series to open in the fall is being planned by the Amarillo Little Theater.

The movies will range from old silents through comedy musicals and foreign films, according to Ray Johnson, who is in charge of planning the attractions.

"We want the series to be entertaining as well as to represent some of the best products of the film maker's art," he said.

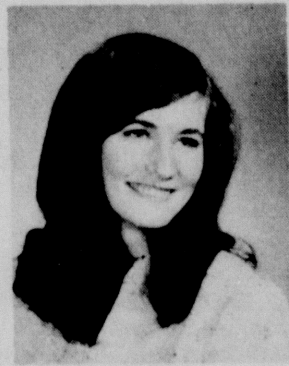

Among the possible selections listed on a ballot being sent to those who request it are "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," "King Kong," "Birth of a Nation," "Macbeth," and a W. C. Fields program.

Johnson said that anyone interested in the series may write the theater and ask that his name be put on the mailing list for announcements of showings. These people will also receive ballots so they can vote on movies they would like to have included.

Johnson said that tickets will be $1.50 per person at each showing and that some membership arrangement will also be available.

Climate, Locale Descriptions Sought By WT Geologist

BY NELL WILLIAMS

What was the Texas Panhandle like 600,000 years ago? Was its climate warm or cool, dry or wet?

These are questions that Dr. Gerald Schultz and his team of assistants are trying to answer as they wash fossils each summer. The research is supported by a National Science Foundation grant of $18,000.

Dr. Schultz is an associate professor of geology at West Texas State University. The paleontologist and four aides began work last week in Tule Canyon near Tulia.

Working with Dr. Schultz are James E. Couzourt, Mrs. Jock Campbell, and Edwin Kiser, all students at West Texas State University. Kenneth Finger of New York State University at Stony Brook is to arrive this week.

The team will look for deposits of volcanic ash similar to ones investigated on the Roy Reynolds Ranch in Ceta Canyon last summer.

The deposits of Pearlite ash are believed to have been spread over the Great Plains in three separate eruptions from the Yellowstone National Park area. The oldest layer is about 1,600,000 years old, Dr. Schultz said. It is believed that one site of this age may be located in the Panhandle. A second layer fell over the Great Plains about 1,200,000 years ago, but no evidences of that eruption have been identified in the Panhandle, said the researcher.

The third layer, which is about 600,000 years old, has been identified in several Panhandle locations, including Ceta Canyon and Tule Canyon.

The value of the volcanic deposits to Dr. Schultz is that they represent an instantaneous event. The sediment just below the ash and the fossils within it should all be of approximately the same age.

By studying these fossils, named the Cudahy fauna, Dr. Schultz and his helpers can determine if the same species of animals existed at the various sites at the same time.

The crew shovels the dirt, filled with fossils, into sacks. About 20 sacks a day are taken to be washed in screened boxes at a pond north of Canyon.

When the dirt is washed away, there remains an accumulation of rocks, snail shells, and, the searchers hope, some scraps of bone.

Last year's excavations turned up evidence of about 20 different kinds of mammals, which the crew washed 13 tons of dirt to retrieve.

Almost all of last year's finds came from a single site on the Reynolds ranch, though the workers sampled three.

Dr. Schultz found rodent teeth on an outcrop at the most productive of the three, and he and his crew harvested evidences of muskrats, voles, gophers, ground squirrels, kangaroo rats, pack rats, shrews, peccary, camel, horse, and mammoth. A lower jaw and a palate represent the earliest record of a prairiedog in the region.

Fragments of large animals were rare, but Dr. Schultz said that the smaller animals provide more useful material for his work, because they did not range very far and are useful in obtaining a picture of the habitat and climate near at hand.

One surprise is that the project has turned up no evidence of rabbits. Even in Kansas, where Dr. Schultz's teacher, Dr. Claude W. Hibberd pioneered in this research, only a few rabbit teeth have been found. Dr. Schultz said he did find rabbits in digging through deposits of Early Pleistocene fossils in Oldham County. These would date back to nearly three million years

Ginger Currie Elected New FFA Sweetheart

Ginger Currie was elected FFA Sweetheart at Canyon High School this week.

Miss Currie is a junior at CHS.

FFA officers elected for the 1971-72 year included Scott Keeling, president; Harry Sims, vice president; Kirk Ashley, second vice president; Randy Wieck, third vice president; Randall Smith, secretary; Neil James, treasurer; Steve Ross, reporter; Pat Trammell, sentinel; Andy Costley, parliamentarian; and Walter Henson, chaplain.

Rick Hales was in charge of the officer election. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

old, he said. The four summers of work in Oldham County were supported by local college funding.

Dr. Schultz believes that the Cudahy fauna he and his workers have found reflect "some sort of glacial time." Probably, the Panhandle area was cooler in summer than it is now and it seems to have had more rainfall. Winters, however, were probably not as severe as they are now, he thinks, since evidence of large land turtles has been found. These could not have endured cold weather for too long, he said.

Most of the mammals he finds are extinct species. Many of his deductions have to be made by judging what animal would be the fossil's closest living relative, he said.

Some fragments cannot be identified. These, Dr. Schultz stores in coffee cans in the expectation that some day a method of dating the very old bones will be developed. Carbon dating is good for about 30,000 years, he said, but these specimens go back as far as a million years.

Nancy Sargarous, center, national officer of Gamma Sigma Sigma, visited on the West Texas State University to investigate the chapter colony at WT. President of the local group is Debbie McKendree, right. Shirley Malone, secretary, and Jeanie Quest, historian. The local colony was named a colony of the national organization and will be initiated at the 10th National convention of the club in June.

News Brief

Canyon High School 1971 Senior Class presented the school a sound system for the library and ornamental posts and ropes during Senior Day activities Friday. The sound system includes an AM-FM radio, a tape deck, and a turn table. The posts and ropes will be used to help in displaying various articles around the school.

Buffalo Girls Become Gamma Sigma Sigma

The name has changed, but the service rendered is the same.

Members of the colony of Gamma Sigma Sigma on the West Texas State University campus will be initiated into the national service organization in June, after 1 1/2 years of pledging.

The local group was visited by Nancy Sargarous, a national officer from the University of Houston, and approval was given for the group to become Delta Beta Chapter of Gamma Sigma Sigma.

Initiation will be held at the national convention June 17 at the University of Connecticut in Storrs, Conn.

Debbie McKendree, president of the WT chapter, and Jeanie Quest, historian, will attend the convention.

On the WT campus, the Gamma Sigma Sigma chapter used to be called the Buffalo Girls, but two years ago they decided to attempt affiliation with the national service organization.

Service projects the local girls have participated in include the Guadalupe Center in Lubbock, goal post decorating, car decorating for homecoming, tour guides for various student activities, March of Dimes, and special LaCasa Home programs.

A "Walk For Mankind" is scheduled for next fall, with all monies from each project going to charity.

Mrs. Coffee Hosts 1925 Bridge Club

Mrs. Herschel Coffee hosted the 1925 Bridge Club Wednesday afternoon.
